over which he used to travel in season and out, said it was only in the last few years, when age and the indication of approaching infirmity rendered him less able for his arduous labors, that I divided his missions. Despite his age, however, he is still energetic and active and zealous. Poor amongst the poorest, he has gained their affection, and he is truly a spiritual father to them.

Father Sorin has enjoyed the highest esteem of all his ecclesiastical authorities, being the valued friend of Bishops, Janssens, Hella, Gunn; and enjoyed also the special friendship of Cardinal Hayes of New York who visited his place of poverty and peace and labor at Delisle.

Abandoning the hope of heart, the love of home, the ambition of talent, the ease of life, the comfort of wealth, Father Sorin has consecrated himself wholly to the work of Christ in his small but vital spot in the vineyard of the Lord. No place on earth is neglected by God's missionaries—all places are great in the appalling light of the value of every soul. Father Sorin's long and fruitful life is an epic of priestly fidelity in the sharing of Christ and His Church and His graces among the poor and lowly—all of whom he has made faithful followers of Christ. Who loves and lives and reigns and conquers.

MOSS POINT STANISLAUS CLASH

To-Night (Friday) 8 P. M., At Stanislaus Stadium—Interesting Game Expected.

This Friday night, the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws play host to the Moss Point eleven in what promises to be an exciting contest.

After last Friday's game, in which the Rockchaws showed amazing power in swamping a favored Foley eleven 45-0, all eyes on the coast are trained on this game so as to be able to make some prediction. Moss Point held St. Aloysius of New Orleans to a scoreless tie of Friday's encounter, it will give fans something on which to base their prognostications.

Moss Point boasts of the prowess of Bishop who has sparked them to victory in two contests. The Rockchaws dream at night of Felix "Doc" Blanchard who has proved his versatility in several contests. In fact, Foley admitted that "Blanchard couldn't be stopped." Broussard, Perez and Proesser have been consistent ground-gainers for the Rockchaws and have shown themselves capable toters of the pigskin. In the line, Zimmerman, A. B. Bell, Tom Klempeter and Ed Little have been lions on defense and have given what it takes to make their team click.

Both schools report no injuries on their respective squads, and Friday's game will see both combines at full strength.

This game will prove of interest to New Orleans prep fans for Stanislaus plays Jesuits November 3 in New Orleans and later on November 24 meets St. Aloysius in Bay St. Louis.

FOOD AND YOUR BODY-MACHINE.

IT IS a good idea once in a while to emphasize the machine-like qualities of the human body. We should not forget that food is the fuel that operates the physical engine upon which life itself depends.

Eating is not only a prime function of existence but it is also one of the most important. Every individual, and particularly our young people, should be thoroughly informed as to the principles of diet and the peculiar values of various foods.

Inasmuch as the meals of the average American family are under the control of the wife and mother, it is the duty of these homemakers to study and understand the proper preparation of food, its specific properties and the value and necessity of variety in the daily diet.

We are not suggesting that the individual become a food fanatic or that our readers take up any of the various fads that afflict the public. We do advise every woman, who is supervising the feeding of human beings to study foods, diets, calories, vitamins and the other data now available in regard to foods. The more widespread such information becomes, the better will be health and bodily growth of the people in Hancock county.

There are millions of people in the United States who pay more attention to the feeding of their poultry and livestock than they do to the food that their children consume. Some of them reside in this county. For one reason or another, including lack of information and lack of money, their children grow up undernourished and ill-fed, their weakened bodies inviting disease. If they escape death, their bodies and general health will present living testimony in years to come of the ignorance of their parents in regards to food.

Every family diet should include milk, meat, bread, vegetables and fruit. Every housewife who reads this article should check up on the food served to her family during the past week. Was it sourced from a health standpoint, taking into consideration the needs of the various members of the family.

ARE YOU A PACK RAT?

WHEN it comes to accumulations of useless odds-and-ends which are found in profusion in many homes, here's an excellent motto: "Burn the junk up—before it burns you up!"

A good many of us have characteristics of the pack rat. We hate to throw anything away. Old clothes, old magazines, old furniture, even old newspapers—all go into informal storage in attic or basement or closet. They may stay there for years, collecting dust and mold, with nothing dangerous happening. Again, they may not—fire, which feeds on such accumulations, may find them. And all your possessions, no less than the junk, may go up in smoke.

Once or twice a year it would be an excellent idea to make a little tour of your home to ferret out such hazards. Charities will be glad to have old clothes, furniture and reading matter. Anything that is useless can go to the junkman or be destroyed in the incinerator. Be especially alert in going through workshop and garage—it is a common habit to leave cans of paint, varnish and other inflammable liquids open. Cleaning rags should always be kept in closed metal containers. Spillage of gasoline or oil should be at once mopped up.

Perhaps your home is free of such dangers. If it is, it is very much the exception. The chances are that hazards exist of which you know nothing—hazards that can be easily eliminated once discovered. Look for them now. Don't put it off until tomorrow—for tomorrow could be too late. Fire can strike tonight as easily as next week or next year.

FOREST FIRES COSTLY.

THE attention of land owners is directed to the 212,671 forest fires in the United States last year. This means one every two and a half minutes. A loss of nearly $30,000,000 was caused by the burning of 30,000,000 acres of forest land.

Exactly what these figures mean is seen by a statement of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which asserts that an average timber production of two hundred board feet an acre annually on the total burned over area, would represent enough lumber to build a third of a million six-room frame houses. This ought to mean something to the individuals who own forest land.

The Forest Service points out that of 585,422,000 acres of forest land needing it, there are 152,167,000 acres without organized fire protection. Seventeen per cent of the unprotected area was burned over in 1939, but less than one per cent of the protected area suffered fire damage.

THE DRIVE INTO EGYPT.

JUST because the Fascist offensive in Egypt which advanced seventy-five miles to Sidi Barrani has halted, there is no reason to presume that Marshal Graziani has been thwarted in his efforts by British defenses.

The fact is the Italian Army is traveling thru desert areas. Having accomplished an initial success, the Italian general is building up his supply lines and probably accumulating some of the vast stores which will be necessary for further advance into Egypt.

ADDITIONAL LAND FOR CAMP SHELBY.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON was recently authorized by a poll of the Mississippi Legislature, on the question of purchasing additional land adjoining Camp Shelby, to borrow up to $100,000.00 for the purpose of purchasing 7500 acres adjoining the camp, according to an announcement recently made by the House Military Affairs Committee.

The committee said that with the additional acreage the camp would accommodate 20,000 additional soldiers. The camp is expecting 42,000 soldiers the latter part of this month.

The poll was taken by means of a petition circulated among legislators by Senator C. W. Sullivan of Hattiesburg, and Representative Stanton Hall of Forrest county. They said the soldiers had agreed to vote the appropriation at the next session of the legislature. At present the camp comprises 70,000 acres.

It is announced from Hattiesburg that accommodations for one division of National Guardsmen are almost completed and work has started on a second divisional camp at Camp Shelby, military base being built there. Contracts require completion of both camps by December 1.

The 37th division, Ohio National guard, will occupy the first sector of the camp. The 38th division, made up of troops from Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia, will occupy the other.

Miss Nellie E. McGovern chief of the army and navy nurses corps at the general hospital in Hot Springs, Ark., has been assigned to Camp Shelby, effective October 14. More than 6000 men are now employed at the camp.

FIND THE ANSWER IN THE NEWSPAPER COLUMNS.

NEWSPAPER WEEK has come to an end. It was a national gesture to the press and designated to bring the minds of people closer to the press—its mission, its representations and of the incalculable benefit and all of the benefits a good county newspaper means to the community.

Of course, counting the investment in dollars and cents, the heavy overhead, weekly payroll, and the flood of bad debts newspapers are made to sustain, and the constant demand on newspaper time and space, it is a wonder they continue to exist. There is no business requiring so large an outlay of capital, and no business is expected to put out so much with comparatively so little in return. But newspapers are community workers, constructive forces and impelled by this motive, they work regardless of the money they make, if any. A community without its live and progressive newspaper, covering the local field from every angle, willing to build rather than tear down, would indeed be a poor place to live in.

It would be well to give the community newspaper more attention; a better sense of realization and the fullest co-operation possible. Do the merchants and other advertisers stand by the local press? The answer will be found in the columns of the newspaper.

FLYING FORTRESSES FOR CHINA?

THE suggestion that the United States send twenty-five flying fortresses to Great Britain interests Americans who want to know how many flying fortresses the United States possesses.

According to The Washington Star, there are now fifty-two on hand, twelve of newer design ready for delivery and sixty-four more of greatly improved speed and fighting qualities due for delivery before the end of the year. At that time, if none are sent abroad, we will have 132.

While we are thoroughly in favor of sending all possible assistance to Great Britain, including the flying fortresses if responsible defense officials think this can be done without impairing our own minimum defensive needs, it might not be a bad idea to arrange for the Chinese to get a few of these giant bombing machines.

For whatever reason China resists Japan, her fight is the fight of civilization against military aggression. In the present condition of world affairs, the future peace of the world and the orderly development of civilization requires not only the defeat of Germany and Italy, but also the discomfiture of Japan.

SEEN AT STATE FAIR.

THE state and county fairs are a firmly entrenched tradition in this country. They provide education no less than entertainment and a good time for the whole family. On the serious side, they show what agriculture has accomplished.

Expert visitors to recent fairs have been impressed by the stress laid on quality. Better fruits, better vegetables, better dairy products—all along the line, the products of the farm are constantly attaining higher standards. And a large measure of the credit for that achievement must go to the agricultural marketing cooperatives.

These co-ops have long laid special stress on better producing methods—methods which not only produce more, but which produce a finer quality crop. They have done fine work in soil utilization and kindred lines. And the result is better food for the consumer, along with a higher return for the producer.

'ST ATE FAIR ATTRACTION.

ONE of the most visited attractions at the Mississippi State Fair, which opened its gates Monday, October 5th, was "Mississippi's wildlife in the raw" and in museum form. New and attractive exhibits featured this annual exposition of the State Game and Fish Commission at the fair. Much of the museum work was done at the Game and Fish Commission—WPA Plant and Animal Survey Laboratory.

Miss Fanny A. Cook, research assistant of the commission was in charge of the exhibit. Members of the commission also spent part of the week with the exhibit. They were Chairman P. E. Whittington, of Lyon; Secretary W. T. Reese, Jackson; Ed McIntyre, Brandon; Commissioner Wm. Starr, Gulfport; R. R. Banks, Columbus and Director W. T. Dearman.

Hollywood Echoes.

FOLLOWING the habit established by Wampus, a disbanded organization of press agents studio executives recently named their own choices for top honors among this year's crop of "baby stars."

Mr. Harold Weston was elected President at the first Boosters Club meeting at the beginning of school. Other officers elected for this year were Vice-President Nolan Ladner, Secretary and Treasurer, Ernest Erwin.

The Boosters Club was organized in the fall of 1939 for the purpose of stimulating and consolidating the interest of all the loyal supporters of Bay High. This club, which is made up almost entirely of Alumni, has done much toward bringing Bay High out as an outstanding school along the coast. During the last year their work consists of such things as the backing of all band activities, the sponsoring of school dances in the gym and the presenting of football and boxing jackets.

The Boosters plan to do the same work this year.

POPE PIUS SAYS WOMEN SHOULD FIGHT EVIL OF IMMODESTY

Scant Reference Made To War, Rebuilding Task Is Mentioned.

Vatican City, Oct. 7.—Pope Pius XII says women should fight the "immodesty" of present day fashion and avoid "ambitious vanity."

"Mode and modesty should go together as two sisters," the Pope told a throng of Italian girls yesterday, "because both words have the same etymology, from the Latin modulus, meaning right measure, beyond which the correct thing is not found."

"But modesty is no longer stylish. As those poor unbalanced people who, having lost the instinct of preservation and the notion of danger, throw themselves into fire and rivers, not a few feminine souls, forgetting Christian modesty through ambitious vanity go miserably toward danger where their chastity may find death."

"These," Pope Pius continued, "suffer the tyranny of style and immodesty in such a way as to seem that they do not even suspect indecency; they have lost the concept of danger itself, the instinct of modesty."

He urged his listeners, representatives of Italian girls' Catholic Action organizations, to pay heed to their leaders, who, he said, would show them how to be "modern, cultivated, sporting, graceful, natural and distinguished without giving way to all the vulgarities of worldly style."

Pope Pius touched only briefly on the war in his 20-minute discourse, characterizing the present hour as one of devastation and telling of the "beautiful work" which awaits the end of the conflict.

This task of Christian reconstruction, he said, included the rebuilding of society on Christian bases; the replacement of the Bible and its moral "in esteem and honor"; the revision of the family, "restoring to matrimony the halo of its sacramental dignity..."; and the reaffirmation in "all great society a genuine notion of authority, discipline, respect for social order and the reciprocal rights and duties of the human person."

The best painting by Wm. Griffith is Wood's Cove. on the shore, at Laguna Beach. Some others are Green Pastures, Rhythm, Old Oak Tree, and Torrey Pine (I liked those, but there are many others). Wendell Wilkie, Republican candidate's special train arrived in Santa Ana at 5:05 P. M. on Wednesday, Sept. 18, on its way to San Diego. There was a very large crowd at the depot. I couldn't see him at all, except when standing on the running board of the police car. His talk was short but pleasant. Loud speakers were on the end of the car. Red roses were presented to Mrs. Wilkie and a box of oranges given to Mr. Wilkie. It was impossible to see what was going on. His train stopped at all the cities, after leaving San Bernardino. There he boarded the train after making a speech.

The train left for San Diego returning later to Santa Ana for the night; the train being under guard in the yards.

Next morning Mr. Wilkie and party left on a motor trip to Los Angeles.

I happened to be on First street when the procession passed. They went by like a flash. Decorated autos and a crowd of motorcycle policemen.

There were only a few people on the street. I was on a friend's porch when they passed. I ran out in the yard, it was so exciting.

A school teacher at McKinney's school in Santa Ana, taught Wendell Wilkie, in the fifth grade, at Elwood, years ago.

I think his coming from Indiana (Abraham Lincoln's state) is a chief attraction. The crowd was enthusiastic but with no uncalled for demonstration.

Bay High To Compete In High School Band Contest at Pascagoula

Bay High was one of the many bands in South Mississippi to receive an invitation to the Gulf Regional High School Band Festival to be held at the Pascagoula High School on Saturday, November 2.

Following the example set by High School Bands in the northern part of the state, the Pascagoula High School Band and band auxiliary will sponsor the first band contest of its kind to be held on the Gulf Coast. This contest will follow the plan of the Annual State Band Contest held in Jackson, except on a smaller scale. There will be many competitive contests including the novelty, marching, twirling, and the sponsors contest. The marching contests will be judged on the appearance and skill of the bands. The sponsor's contest will be judged on the attractiveness and personality of the sponsors entered by each band. Judges will be chosen from towns not competing, and awards will be given to the band having the highest honors in each contest.

The Pascagoula band also plans to give a seafoods supper and a dance for the participating bands at the close of the contest.

The Pascagoula High School is hoping that all the bands participating will cooperate in making this Band Festival a success, so that in years to come it may become an annual event on the Gulf Coast.

It just doesn't pay to try to get along without a telephone.

EXCHEQUER TRIAL RUN SATISFACTORY; BROOMS ATOP MAST

First of Fifteen All-Welded Ships to be Built at Pascagoula Meets Test.

The S. S. Exchequer, 492-foot Pascagoula-built ship, docked at the yard Friday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock from its official two-day trial run in the gulf, with brooms flying high at its mast. (The brooms signify that the boat had made a clean sweep of the trial run and had undergone various tests satisfactorily.)

The S. S. Exchequer, first of 15 all welded vessels to be built at the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation, which has sold the ship to the Navy fulfilled all of the requirements of its contract, and the Naval Trial Board and the Maritime Board were very complimentary of its appearance, performance and workmanship.

The boat is to be delivered to the Navy on October 10 at the local yard, according to the contract, it was stated.

The Exchequer was said to have performed to the fullest expectations of the officials of the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation, and that it was most unusual having the boat inspected and judged by both boards on the same run.

The Naval Board consisted of two rear admirals, two captains and two commodores, while there was an eight-man board from the Maritime Commission.

The S. S. Exchequer, was launched Saturday morning, August 17, and the Mormactide, third ship, is scheduled to slide into the waters of the Singing River on the morning of Saturday, October 12.

ANOTHER BOAT LAUNCHED SATURDAY AT PASCAGOULA

Mormactide Slides Into Waters at 9:19-Fitting Ceremony.

Pascagoula, Oct. 12—Amid the din of bugle, whistles and applause from a small, but patriotic crowd, the third of 10 ships to be constructed by the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation slid into the waters here this morning at precisely 9:19 o'clock. Gaily bedecked with bunting and yacht flags, the trim, gray, craft, christened the Mormactide, went down the ways in what was described as the smoothest of the three launchings held here so far this year. It was a fitting ceremony for Columbus Day.

The white splotch of champagne on the bow of the vessel had hardly cleared up before two waiting tugs took the craft in tow and began maneuvering her to a nearby berth where outfitting operations will begin.

With three of her sisters included as maids of honor, Miss Gloria McGehee, of Meadville, daughter of Congressman Dan McGehee, swung the traditional bottle against the boat as it started slowly off the ramp. The maids were Misses Jane Manes, Deane McGehee, Patricia McGehee and Dorothy Ann McGehee. Miss Gloria McGehee is a student at George Washington University at Washington, D. C.

British Noblewoman Guest.

Lady Castleross, British noblewoman, who is said to have christened several large British battleships, was a guest for the launching. A number of the Maritime Commission members, executives of the Ingalls company and various city, state and county officers were also on hand.

The vessel, 492 feet and capable of 18 knots, can readily be converted into ships for naval service if needed. In direct contrast to her two sister ships, the Mormactide was painted a battleship gray, with red waterline and white kingmast and upper structure. The other boats are black with yellow upper structure.

Following the launching an open-house reception was held for visiting dignitaries at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hermes Gautier on Columbus drive here. Following this, the group departed for Edgewater Hotel for lunch and further ceremonies.

Address by McCormack

A highlight of the launching was an address by President McCormack who said in part: "It is a fitting tribute that this boat should be launched on Columbus Day recalling when Columbus first touched the shores of the Western Hemisphere."

He compared the craft to that used by the discoverer of America and as a parting comment said the craft would carry facilities for keeping its cargo air-cooled. McCormack also expressed pleasure over the opportunity to be associated with the Ingalls company and the Maritime Commission, the work of both being highly praised.

A buffet luncheon in honor of Miss Gloria McGehee, sponsor of the Mormactide, was held at 1 o'clock at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel. A flag of the steamship line hung in the lobby of the hotel over the entrance to the reception room.

"ALL THIS, HEAVEN TOO" BRINGS BELOVED NOVEL TO THE SCREEN

To Be Shown at A. & G. Theater This Sunday And Monday.

In line with its policy of presenting the finest of the new crop of film entertainment, the A. & G. Theater will show "All This And Heaven Too," Warner Bros. picture, the sensational success of Rachel Field novel. Bette Davis and Charles Boyer are co-starred in the film, which opens on Sunday night.

As one of the most important pictures on the 1940 schedule, Warner Bros. have produced "All This And Heaven Too" on a lavish scale, sparing no efforts in making the brilliant, absorbing novel come to vibrant life on the screen. Made under the personal supervision of Jack L. Warner vice-president in charge of production, Hal B. Wallis, executive producer and David Lewis, associate producer, the film was directed by Anatole Litvak, whose deft artistry in handling deeply romantic themes is well-known to motion picture audiences. From the brilliant co-starring team of Miss Davis and Boyer down to the smallest character bit, the film has been cast with minute care.

Out of Rachel Field's gripping pages comes the immortal story of a young French girl, her background shrouded in mystery who enters the home of one of France's great noblemen, the Duc de Praslin, as governess to his children. How strangely the destinies of these two, the little governess and the great lord, become interwoven forms the fascinating theme of this great story.

Casey Robinson, who was responsible for the screen treatments of such recent Bette Davis successes as "The Old Maid" and "Dark Victory" wrote the screen play based on Miss Field's novel. A brilliant musical score by Max Steiner accompanies the dramatic action of "All This And Heaven Too."

STUDENT PRINTS AWARDED INTERNATIONAL FIRST HONORS

By Quill And Scroll For Second Consecutive Year.

The Student Prints was awarded International first honors by the Quill and Scroll committee on international awards for school newspapers for the second consecutive year.

The Quill and Scroll invites all its member schools to make use of its critical service for school newspapers. The Achievement Scale is intended to measure the success of a school newspaper in terms of the service it renders a particular school. Its object is to measure the journalistic and educational achievements of the publication, with major emphasis upon content and not upon form, and to permit the school to develop a type of journalism peculiarly suited to its needs.

The judges base their decisions on the following points of the Achievement Scale: quality of writing, selection of material, treatment of material, responsibilities of the staff, editorial achievements, innovations, circulation of paper, and advertising. Any school regulations or restrictions which affect any of these points are taken into consideration in determining the final standing of the publication.

The Student Prints score was 880, an increase of 60 points over last year, which is rated as paper of high achievements.

On their criticism blank, the Quill and Scroll wrote the following statement about the Student Prints: "The Student Prints is awarded First Place because of its well planned and attractive dress and the abundance of interesting and ably presented news and feature material included in its pages."

A New Portrait of Ann Sothorn

Ann Sothorn, having completed two pictures, "Cold Rush Maize" and "Dulcy," is now in New York enjoying a brief vacation. The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star will return to the coast and resume her screen work in another "Maize" characterization, "Maize Was a Lady."

ANSLEY AND CHAPMAN ELECTED HEADS OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Grady Perkins And Clara Reed Will Act As Advisory Committee For Association

Steele Ansley, Martha Chapman, Dorothy Arendale and C. C. McDuffald were chosen to head the activities of the Student Activity Association, assisted by an advisory committee made up of Mr. Grady Perkins and Miss Clara Reed, of Bay High School.

Other officers chosen for this year were: Accountant, Preston LeBreton; Bookstore Managers, Mary Elizabeth Jackson and Nancy Bell Murphy; Cashiers, Sterl Sharp, James Ansley, W. L. Bourgeois, Jack Weston; Assistant Secretaries, Milton Phillips and Lando Goldman.

The Student Activity Association which was organized about three years ago, is different from any other club in Bay High. The students pay no set dues, they contribute nothing except through their patronizing of the bookstore which handles all school supplies.

The purpose of this association is to provide special training and to face the student with problems and issues of contemporary life by giving actual experience in school situations.

This year the Student Activity Association plans to allot a certain amount to each club or activity from the fund taken in from football games and other sources. It also plans to sponsor an invitational basketball tournament. For the past two years the Invitational Tournaments sponsored by the Association have been a great success.

For the past two years the May Festival has been sponsored by the Student Activity Association.

Principal way it helps is by increasing appetite, stimulating flow of gastric juices and so improving digestion and helping to build physical resistance. DON'T CASH CHECKS FOR STRANGERS

It Is Risky Business.

Our attention has been called to the fact that "bad check artists" are rather active in Mississippi. Recently they have been specializing in Bogus Cashier's Checks, but there are so many variations to their schemes that it would be difficult if not impossible to enumerate them. Then, too, it might be unwise to tell one of them, in this way, of a plan he might have overlooked that is being used by another one of his profession.

Usually these "artists" avoid the banks, preferring to pass their checks on merchants who sometimes take them for goods sold, with "the difference in cash." By this time the check reaches the bank on which it is drawn and then comes back "unpaid" to the bank in which the customer deposited it; usually two or three days, the "artist" has moved on to other parts. The bank charges the item back to the customer who deposited it, with endorsement, and he sustains the loss.

It is for the benefit and protection of that customer that we are passing on the suggestion—"Better Be Safe Than Sorry."

New Auto Models Designed For Better Vision.

The 1941 automobile models have been designed for better vision of both drivers and passengers. Areas of windshields and side windows are considerably greater than in models a few years ago, permitting drivers and passengers to have wide vision without head twisting, points out the Better Vision Institute. Most of the new models have polished plate safety glass not only in the windshields, but also in the side windows. Unpolished sheet safety glass used in side windows to reduce costs is found on few of this year's models. Another factor in better seeing are the sealed headlights. These give brilliant light for safer, night driving.

County Youth Meet With NYA Personnel Officer.

Nine Hancock county youths were interviewed October 10 by Mr. O. R. Bantz, district NYA personnel officer and Miss Rosemary Blaize.

According to recent announcements issued by Mr. F. M. Brewer, Mr. Bantz will visit Bay St. Louis, Miss., at the county health office on the 2nd Thursday of each month.

All out-of-town youth between the ages of 18 and 25, unmarried and unemployed, who wish to apply for NYA training may contact Miss Blaize, local NYA intake clerk, at the office of Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer. According to Mr. Brewer, the National Youth Administrator for Mississippi feels that it is essential that every qualified youth should apply even though it may be impossible in every case to find a place on the program immediately. By such contact the NYA Personnel Officer is able to collect information regarding the youth's interest, wishes, and aptitudes that will assist the State Youth Administrator in planning future training projects.

The following Hancock youths were present at the meeting, Elsie Mae Capdepon, Mary Carrio, Catherine Kauffman, Eunice Lind, Harry Tucker, William McCarty, John P. Vairin, Christy Moran and Helena Simms.

Gallup survey gives Roosevelt 499 votes in electoral College.
